

Grief during COVID-19 times. Was it an epidemic within a pandemic?

Dr Lonneke Lenferink is Assistant Professor at the University of Twente (NL). Lyanne Reitsma is a PhD candidate in the Department of Clinical Psychology at Utrecht University. This talk will give a nuanced picture of grief during the COVID-19 pandemic. It will also zoom in on an online treatment that was specifically designed to support people who have lost loved ones during the pandemic.
